To the Public.

in the reply of said Maclean (which might gain credence with some persons who are not acquainted with the author) published in the Boon's Lick Times of last Saturday, I feel again constrained to appear before them, in order to give a plain which this scamp would endeavor to palm off upon the public for truth.

He says I "never dismissed him." They can judge of this also, after I relate the facts as they occurred in the presence of witnesses who can testify to the truth of them, if necessary.

I went into the factory and found him lying on some Tobacco boxes, asleep. I kicked him and he awoke; told him he was too lazy and triffing to work for a living, that we did not hire him to I sep in day time; he must go somewhere else, I had no use for him or any such lazy filthy fellow as he was, and he must quit the factory; that he was a disadvantage to it, I had put up with him as leng as I could or would and intended to settle with him and he must go. He said something as long as I could or would and intended to settle with him and he must go. He said something about being hired by the year and he did not know if I had the power to discharge him. To which I replied: "g—d d—n you, I will let you know whether I have the power to discharge you or not." I went home with the intention of driving him off that night, and drew off his account, ing him off that night, and drew off his account.

will please make immediate payment, and those having claims against said estate are requested to prevent them, properly authenticated, within one year from the date of said letters, or they may be precluded from having any benefit of said estate, and if not presented within three years, they will be forever barred.

DIALPHA WOOD, Administratrix. ing him off that night, and drew off his account, finding a balance in our favor, but he met me and in a very pitiful manner told me he had not a cent of money and no where to go; begged I would let him remain a short time. I told him I had no set him remain a short time. I told him I had no use for him and he must leave at the end of the week. He said he would go over to Saline the next week and try to get a situation. On the next day he went up to the point, near this place, and staid nearly all day; when he came back, he stopped in at Mr. Robiou's and got a Sovereign changed; paid perhaps a bit he owed at the gro-cery and then came up to the factory. Mr. Du-lany missed his three Sovereigns on the same evening and made enquiry about them of Maclean. He appeared to know nothing about them; did not say he had passed any off or seen any. Mr. Dulany went down to Robiou's the next day to caution him against taking any such money as be had lost, from any negro or suspicious person; when after some little enquiry, Robiou said he had received a piece of money answering the description of one of the pieces he had lost, from sale at the Boowville Book-store. E. HART.

I took no part in the prosecution further than to state what Maclean had told me about his having no money, nor having had any gold of late, which he had told me the day before Dulany in-formed me he should prosecute him on the evidence of Robiou and his own statements about having no money on the day I ordered him off. I told Dulany at first not to do it, but he said that Robiou had advised him in the case. I declined giving him any advice in the matter for fear I might be wrong; he might take his own course. So much for the part I took in his prosecution. He says that his relation, Mr. Agnew, contemplated engaging J. Carroll to put up 300 hhds. of Tobacco for him. This is as base a falsehood as ever was uttered. In the first place, Mr. Agformed, both by this fellow himself, and my brother. As for the former, I will make no statement of what he said, but my brother told me he was not. As to the order for Tobacco, there never was such a thing thought of by Mr. Agnew; of this I am certain from a letter received from the min. We received an order for a large lot of him. We received an order for a large lot of springs on the farm. new is no relation of his, or I have been misin him. We received an order for a large lot of Tobacco from a mercantile house in New York, of a different name and style, but at certain limits below what it could be bought at here and it is still on hand, never having been filled or countermanded; he may have overheard myself and brother talking about this order and got an idea such a thing could be done, and now throws out this as a bait to catch some poor fool in hopes of old Chariton. I am compelled to sell the above of old Chariton. I am compelled to sell the above and brother talking about this order and got an idea such a thing could be done, and now throws out this as a bait to catch some poor fool in hopes of getting him to take him by the hand, in expectation of receiving a large order to fill; this is the most ingenious thing I ever knew him to do.

He winds up his poor, miserable pack of lies by asking if I did not visit New York or Baltimore to purchase goods for my employers, and while there purchase a lot of coffee! This question I there purchase a lot of coffee! This question I will answer the public, not him, for I scorn to ask or answer him a question. It is a most base and infamous lie, all the goods or coffee I ever administration on the estate of James Marshall, purchased was on my account or for the house or dec'd. houses I was either principal or partner in. So his criminal prosecution and going to North Carolina.

his own country or State but for crime.

North Carolina and only once, but not as this fellow has insinuated. It was after I had quit business in Virginia and after I had determined to move South or West. My brother wrote to me while I was at my mother's, in Goochland county, Va., on a visit, that the steam packet Home had been lost on the North Carolina coast, I think in 1838, and he wished me to go on to New York, together with my family, and from thence to accompany him and family to North Carolina for the purpose of making some enquiry and search for the bodies of Mr. H. B. Croom, (his brother-in-law) and family, who were lost on this unfortunate boat. I went on to New York, thence to North Carolina and found two of the bedies; returned to Virginia and thence to the West. If any one wishes proof of what I have stated, they can have it; there word of the above statement.

He also says so soon as I found out the order for the Tobacco, from Mr. Agnew, was not to come, my conduct changed towards him. This is also a lie. It changed so soon as I found out he was guilty of one of the most base and blackest deeds that ever man was guilty of, with one of the negroes in the factory, too disgraceful to reneat here.
